FIRE ANT PROBLEMS

I just want you to know that I am very happy with the ant proof bowls that I ordered from you. They really work! The second day I used them I saw a few ants in the bottom of one empty bowl, but it was because a vine had touched it from above, so I trimmed the vine and it solved that problem. The funny thing was that I don't think the ants could figure out how to get out of the bowl!

Thanks for making a great product, Linda, LA

I received my Motes in March 2010. They have survived flooding, baking (through a steamy Houston-area summer), freezing and a fair amount of abuse - but they have never, EVER let an ant get into our pets' food. An unexpected bonus: they're heavy and difficult for our large dogs to pick up, so we have never been forced to play hide and seek to locate them. You might consider donating some to a non-profit or placing some on consignment with veterinarians - I think more folks would buy them if they could just find them. Karen Rudinger, Magnolia, Texas

“The Mote” Ant Proof Pet Bowl

The first patented bowl that is maintenance free.

All you do is add food.

The design of the bowl incorporates an inner bowl and an outer bowl with bumper to create the maze so that when the ants enter into the outer bowl they lose the scent of the food and search elsewhere. The bumper keeps the inner bowl away from walls and grass etc. The only way to the food for the ants is through the maze where they lose the scent of food.

“The Mote” comes in four colors (beige, red, blue, green) is UV resistant, durable and does not fade or crack in the sun.

Made from non-toxic HDPE resin
Dimensions: 11.5” dia by 4.5” high
