

You may already have an ant-proof pet bowl, but does it work? Is it a mess to maintain, does it require water or some chemical that you have to keep adding in or around the bowl? If this is true you may want to try our pet bowl. We have dog breeders, kennels, pet stores, farm & ranch supplies and veterinary clinics that use and sell these bowls. This item has been used and sold since 1989 and the people who know and use it always tell their friends about

“The Mote”

“The Mote”

was invented in July 1986 in Austin, Texas by Tony Welch, a guy like you and me, to prevent fire ants from getting into his pets' food without using any poisons or liquids that need to be replenished. Patented February, 1989 in Austin, Texas. Manufactured by PmP Inc. McGregor, Texas

